SEMINARY WILL CONSTRUCT NEW DORM IN FALL

Construction of a new dormitory to replace the old structure built in 1931 at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary was announced Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the board of directors at the seminary. Work is expected to start next fall.

Attorney John A. Hooper, of York, was elected president of the board at the annual meeting held in the Church of the Abiding Presence.

Attorney Hooper, a member of the board for many years, succeeds the late Rev. Dr. George A. Greiss, of Allentown, who died several weeks ago.

Other officers named at the same time include the Rev. Dr. Chester S. Simonton, York, vice president; Rev. Paul B. Lucas, Chambersburg, secretary, and the Gettysburg National bank, treasurer.

Rev. Mr. Lucas succeeds Rev. E. Martin Grove of Harrisburg, secretary of the board for some years, who died during the past year.

Reports presented by Dr. A. R. Wentz, president of the seminary, showed that it now is the largest seminary in the United Lutheran church with a student enrollment of 107, the largest in its history. Reports of the registrar indicate that next year's attendance will show an increase over this year's all-time high, Doctor Wentz said.

Expert $150,000

It is expected that the present appeal of the Lutheran church on behalf of its institutions of higher education will provide the seminary with $150,000 this year, the board pointed out. It then appointed a building committee with instructions that, as soon as the $150,000 is in sight, the committee will employ an architect, select the site, let the contract and proceed with construction.

According to discussion concerning the new dormitory, the board plans to have individual rooms for about 65 students and about 30 small apartments for married students. The present dormitory at the seminary is historically famous for the part it played as a Confederate lookout during the Battle of Gettysburg.

Degrees For 29

The board authorized the president, on recommendation of the faculty, to grant the degree of bachelor of divinity to 23 members of the senior class and the degree of master of sacred theology to six post graduate students.

Dr. Bertha Paulsen, head of the department of sociology and psychology at the seminary, was elected to deliver the Holman lecture on the Augsburg Confession in 1951. The Rev. Frederick K. Wentz, now a student at Yale university, was elected the Cronhardt Traveling Fellow from 1950-51.

A budget aggregating about $125,000 was adopted by the board for the coming year.

NEW GAS RATES FILED WITH PUC

Lower rates for natural gas users in the Gettysburg district served by the Manufacturers Light and Heat company, Pittsburgh, were filed with the Public Utility commission, Harrisburg, Tuesday.

The reductions will average almost $2 a year for 5,000 customers, according to company estimates, which put the reduction at about $10,000 in annual revenue. Consumers in York, Franklin and Adams counties are included in the district.

The new rates, if approved by the PUC, will become effective for the first full month of service after June 30. The reduction will affect all the company's customers in the district except 41, nearly all of whom are paying minimum bills at present. They will get slight increases, PUC said.

As proposed by the utility, the schedule is standard throughout the company's service territory. It was filed to replace one which Manufacturers acquired from the Gettysburg Gas corporation on January 1, 1949.

Gardners Man At Naval Air Station

Gerald P. Dooley, USN, of Gardners, is stationed at the Naval Air station in Corpus Christi, Texas. He is attached to the staff of the Chief of Naval Air Advanced training which is headed by Rear Adm. E. W. Litch. Dooley is a third-class yeoman working in the Staff Officer Personnel office.

He received his "boot-training" at Great Lakes, Ill., and served at Jacksonville, Fla., before being sent to Corpus Christi.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Shaffer, of Gardners, Dooley attended high school in Hampstead, Md., before entering the naval service in 1948.

SAYS GERMANS PREFER LIVING IN SOVIET ZONE

His trip to Germany in the summer of 1949 was described for members of the Exchange club of Gettysburg by Dr. William K. Sundermeyer, head of the German department at Gettysburg college, at the club's weekly dinner meeting at Banker's restaurant Tuesday night.

Dr. Sundermeyer, who was born and lived in Germany until 1939, when he came to this country, declared that Germans feel their country was defeated in World War II because the German generals sabotaged the war effort to "get" Hitler.

Conditions, particularly for professions, are better in the Eastern or Russian zone than in the Western zone, he said. In the latter, the German people lack initiative, depend on the government for everything, and are waiting for a new leader, Dr. Sundermeyer said.

Conspiracy Beat Hitler

"The army tried to get rid of Hitler. When this didn't work, the generals sabotaged the war effort to get rid of him," the speaker said. Germans he talked with told him that Hitler would have won the war if the generals had not conspired against him, Dr. Sundermeyer said. "The Germans in the Western zone are all waiting for something to happen," he said. "The rubble has not been cleared, but they are waiting for someone to tell them what to do instead of going ahead and doing it. Everything is done by the city, province or government."

Dr. Sundermeyer said the refugee problem was also acute. Hannover, a town of 17,000 before the war, now has a population of 24,000, half of them refugees, most of them unemployed. (Please Turn to Page 2)

TWO INJURED AS CAR UPSETS

An automobile operated by Herbert Miller Hall, 16, of Biglerville, ran off the left side of the road on the Lincoln highway a half mile west of Gettysburg at 2:30 o'clock this morning, went down an embankment, and turned over, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Hall and Arthur Vasquez, Gettysburg college, were helped from the damaged automobile by a passing truck driver, who also called the state police, the latter said. Both were treated for injuries.

An automobile operated by Robert J. Smith, 28, of 145 McAlister street, Hanover, struck the car of M. Garrett, 57, of Hanover R. 4, on Route 94 a half mile north of Hanover at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday night as Garrett was turning into his own driveway, police reported.

Garrett had signaled for the turn and a car behind him had stopped. Police said Smith drove around the other car and struck Garrett as the latter was making the turn. No one was injured. Damage to Smith's car was estimated at $400 and to Garrett's car at $100.

7-Year-Old Patient In Warner Hospital Makes Pot-Holders

Seven-year-old Charles "Terry" Matson is not one to let idle time slip uselessly by while he lies in a little bed in the Warner hospital recuperating from a compound fracture of his left leg.

Tuesday Terry put to use a hobby, taught him by his mother more than a year ago, and began weaving varicolored pot-holders which his sparkling blue eyes and engaging grin helped sell to doctors, nurses and a few patients who happened into his room.

"I made about $5 worth of these potholders last year," Terry said proudly. "And, look, I made almost a dollar today," he said as he counted out 70 cents. Later sales put the total over the dollar mark. Terry's products come in assorted colors, made of materials supplied by his mother. "I just think up the designs—my Mother and I,"

Historians Hear Early History Of Jesuit Priests, Paper Mills And Other Industries In County

Members of the Adams county historical society Tuesday night were told how Jesuit priests from Conewago chapel used to ride horseback to supply St. Ignatius Loyola church, Buchanan Valley. They also heard the story of the paper mills and other industries that once thrived in Beecherstown.

The Rev. Louis Yeager, pastor of St. Ignatius Loyola church, read a history of the church during the first stop on the regular May tour of the society. Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Raffensperger gave details of historical events in the Arendtsville area at a stop in the Arendtsville national bank. The society had originally planned a walking tour through Arendtsville, but rain interfered with that plan.

Conewago chapel was the "mother church" of the Harrisburg diocese of the Catholic church, Father Yeager said, in reading an account of how the Jesuits came to Conewago probably before the arrival of white men in the area, and then served Catholic families in Lancaster county, Harrisburg and west to and beyond South Mountains during the early days of the colony.

Say Mass In Homes

Mass was said at Conewago at least as early as 1721, according to the report read by Father Yeager. Traveling by horseback, and sometimes on foot, the Jesuits, at Conewago, and priests from Philadelphia were serving approximately 2,000 Catholics in Pennsylvania by 1750. Mass in Buchanan Valley was

Mayhall To Get 25-Year Award

L. R. Mayhall, Gettysburg, a veteran of more than 25 years of service with the Manufacturers Light and Heat company, will be welcomed Thursday into the Cumberland chapter of the company's Quarter Century club at a luncheon meeting at the Ali-Ghan Shrine club, Pittsburgh.

Irving K. Peck, vice president and general manager of the gas company, will present Quarter Century club watches to Mayhall and other new members. Election of officers of the chapter will follow.

The Cumberland chapter was organized in 1948. With the initiation of four new members, including Mayhall, the group will consist of 24 veteran employees from the Manufacturers Light and Heat and the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas companies.

first said in the homes of residents of the area. The cornerstone for the present St. Ignatius church was laid October 10, 1816 and in 1830 Bishop McKenrick reported confirming 52 persons at "The Church of St. Ignatius on the Mountain."

After the Jesuits removed from Conewago, the Gettysburg priest visited St. Ignatius to hold services about once a month. Later the priest at Chambersburg supplied the Buchanan Valley church. In 1911 a resident pastor was appointed and the church has had a resident pastor since that time.

Two Cemeteries

How Arendtsville got two cemeteries was one of the details given by Mr. Raffensperger in his talk at Arendtsville. Originally a union church, of the Lutheran and Reformed congregations, stood on the site of the present bank building, the 80-year-old Arendtsville mail carrier recalled. The cemetery adjoined the church. When the congregation moved its church across the street from the bank site, the townspeople decided that they would set up a new cemetery. "Everything went fine," Raffensperger said, "until it came to a choice of a site. Some wanted the cemetery one place and some another. They couldn't agree and so two cemeteries were laid out."

Jacob H. Plank used to operate a wagon construction shop in a building across the street from the bank's location, Mr. Raffensperger said, adding that "Mr. Plank was sheriff of the county, also an undertaker and justice of the peace as well as a wagon maker." He described the work involved in turning out by hand the huge hub caps and spokes for the wagon wheels.

Negro Settlement

Eight families of Negroes used to live on "Yellow Hill," near Arendtsville, and were believed to have been descendants of slaves who escaped via the underground railway. Some of the Negroes were employed in connection with the making of charcoal for the Pine Grove furnace. Raffensperger described how thousands of trees were cut around Arendtsville, made into charcoal, and then hauled to Pine Grove furnace by wagon. At times the hot logs would burst into flames en route and then would have to be dumped from the wagons.

Mr. Raffensperger recalled that Arendtsville became an independent school district because the number (Please Turn to Page 4)

COMMUNISM NO WORRY TO JAPS SPEAKER SAYS

"General MacArthur is doing a wonderful job in Japan" and communism there doesn't worry him a bit. He is letting it kill itself, nobody pays any attention to the Communists." This was the assertion of Col. Charles S. "Bud" Smith of Dillsburg, an officer in the Far Eastern Air Force command, stationed in Japan, in a talk at the Upper Adams Lions club meeting Tuesday night.

"Russia," he said, "would like to have Japan as an arsenal. With it they believe they could rule the world. But they are not going to come into Japan as long as we are there. We have combat readiness in Japan that is as fine as any that ever existed."

Speaking of the Japanese, Col. Smith said, "they have a great admiration for us and their youth show a keen interest and knowledge of our history and democracy. The Japanese are intelligent. They are the greatest copyists in the world, duplicating the industries of other countries."

Smith declared that the "conduct of General MacArthur has brought about a great change in Japan. After Japan lost the war the Japanese expected execution and other atrocities. Girls were given vials of poison. Actually the occupation troops operated more like a Salvation Army and Red Cross. Japanese were recruited to assist and were unable to understand this treatment."

Soldiers In Disrepute

"No public officer, regardless of his ability, who took part in the war may continue in his office or profession under the constitution set up in 1945. The state was wiped clean. No imperialistic name is used except in commercial businesses. There is a disregard for the Japanese soldier. Even the wounded soldiers get no sympathy. The Japanese regret what happened and now feel that they have a program which is much better. Interest is shown (Please Turn to Page 6)

YESTERDAY AND TOMORROW ARE SHOWN IN SKIT

Presentations at the annual all-day Homemakers program held Tuesday by the Adams County Agricultural Extension association at Two Taverns ranged from the home of the past to hats of the future.

One hundred and twenty-five women from throughout the county attended the affair. They brought with them 30 of their youngsters who were handled in a special nursery school set up for the day. The "old" in the county was shown in a pageant entitled, "The Home-maker—Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," presented by a number of members of home economics clubs of the county. During the pageant the "new" was also shown in connection with the past, and two members of the Hunt Avenue club, Mrs. William Bushman and Mrs. Willis Conover, went so far as to forecast the future, at least as pertains to women's hats.

Hats of Future Shown

The two claimed that the hat of tomorrow will be functional and to prove it modeled their own creations. One was made entirely of fruit and the wearer explained that it was meant to be eaten after the wearer was through with it as a hat. The other hat consisted of two baskets, one atop the other, and trimmed with all types of kitchen utensils. Its utility lay in the fact that the homemaker would have all tools available, no matter where she might be, if she needed to engage in kitchen work.

Mrs. Irvin Kingdig, Littlestown, acted as chairman for the meeting, with devotions under direction of the Greenmont Home Economics unit and games under direction of the Good Hope club.

A panel discussion on "Know Your Agencies" was presented by officials of various public offices including Miss Christine Cunningham, of the Adams County Child Welfare Service; Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington, of the Red Cross; Miss Mildred Eden, (Please Turn to Page 4)

POLICE OF TWO STATES AIDING WOLFORD EVADE "EXTRADITION"

Attorney Sidney E. Freedman, Harrisburg, who said he was representing both the Florida and the Pennsylvania organizations of the Fraternal Order of Police on behalf of Albert L. Wolford, former Gettysburg police officer and gas station operator, charged Tuesday afternoon at an extradition hearing in Harrisburg that Ralph J. Miller, present operator of the gas station, was as much a party to any violation of the bulk sales act as Wolford.

The hearing on the application of District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter to extradite Wolford from Florida, where he has been a truck driver and a police officer at Delray Beach since leaving Gettysburg, was held in the state capital before first Deputy Attorney General Harrington Adams. At the conclusion of the arguments, Mr. Adams announced that there would be no further hearings and that the case would be presented to Governor Duff.

Miller Paid Twice

Attorneys said should the governor issue an extradition warrant, it would still be up to the governor of Florida to determine whether Wolford should be returned here to face the charge.

Miller purchased the business, located on Buford avenue, from Wolford in September, 1948, for $1,592.05. In Adams county court later, Miller was forced to pay this amount again to satisfy Wolford's creditors.

Miss Nina Storrick, a clerk for the past 35 years in the law offices of Swope, Brown and Swope, identified a bill of sale given by Wolford, she said, on September 20, 1948, with an affidavit attached showing that there were no creditors. Miller said Tuesday in Harrisburg that when he entered into an agreement with Wolford for the purchase of the gas station assets, Wolford told him of only two creditors, and these claims were paid.

Accuses Both Men

Attorney Freedman contended that the agreement, settlement of these two claims, sale and Wolford's departure from Gettysburg all took place the same day, and that both Wolford and Miller were parties to an attempt to avoid the application of the bulk sales act.

"Miller knew that there were creditors, and he violated the act," Freedman charged. "This was a plan to get a man out of town in a hurry because he was in debt up to his neck." Freedman declared that, even though Miller was forced to pay twice, he got back part of the latter amount as a creditor when the money was apportioned.

Teeter declared that Miller had a right to rely on the affidavit made by Wolford that there were no other creditors. But he got back only $24,750 and thus has been deprived of some $1,300. He presented a telegram purported to have been sent to Miller from Wolford seeking to know "how much money" it would take "to settle."

Ignorant Of Creditors

"We are not seeking to bring Wolford back to collect a bill," Teeter said, "but to meet punishment. If he had done this and gone to Pittsburgh or Erie he would have been brought back without argument."

Miller said an inventory of the gas station was taken the day before the sale was consummated, and that he did not know of other creditors, including two banks and the Atlantic Refining company.

Freedman cited the decision of Judge W. C. Sheely following the action tried in Adams county court, and said "the opinion written by Judge Sheely found the facts contrary to the facts set forth in this (extradition) petition."

FILES ASSUMPSIT ACTION

An action in assumpsit has been filed in the county prothonotary's office by Attorney Franklin R. Bigham for James Merriken, Baltimore, against Donald F. Reigle, McSherrytown. The case involves a promissory note for $2,201.18.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR OBSERVANCE HERE MAY 13-20

Plans for Gettysburg and Adams county's celebration of National Defense Week, and Armed Forces Day, May 13 through May 20 were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the committee in charge held in the local Chamber of Commerce office.

The events will include an open house all day Saturday, May 20, at the local armory by the county's National Guard unit; a banquet May 19 at which Lieut. General John C. H. Lee will speak, and programs held by a number of organizations throughout the county.

At the National Guard open house, motion pictures made by the Army, Navy and Air Force will be shown outlining the work of the various forces showing how they combine in their operations. Other details of the open house will be completed later.

Club Programs
During the week of May 15 the local Lions, Rotary, American Legion, Exchange club and Sons of Union Veterans will hold National Defense Week and Armed Forces Day programs, according to reports presented at the meeting. Arrangements are being made to have similar observances at meetings of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Eagles and Elks, committee members said.

Window displays are to be placed in a number of windows in Gettysburg, Biglerville, Littlestown and Hanover, according to the report of the display committee.

Committee members said that the observance is a tribute to the members of the armed forces, and a calling to mind of the nation's needs for defense. As such, it was pointed out, the observance should be of county-wide significance rather than merely a local one.

Plan School Programs

Schools are being contacted throughout the county to arrange programs concerning National Defense Week and Armed Forces Day, the committee said. A large number of 16 millimeter films, made by the Army, Navy and Air Force are available and any school or organization not contacted which may wish films or speakers for programs are asked to contact Burgess William G. Weaver, chairman of the committee.

Special motion pictures produced by the Army, Navy and Air Force will be shown at the local Warner Brothers theaters in connection with the National Defense Week program, reports at the meeting showed.

SAYS GERMANS

played. They cannot be assimilated in the west, the people don't want them. They want to return to their homes and are only waiting for the day, but they cannot return now.

Professionally trained residents are a highly privileged class in the Russian zone, where they are welcomed and many go because of better conditions, he said.

"Germans show no fear of the Russians but do fear another war. Their criticism of the western powers is greater than their criticism of the Russians. They ask 'Why don't they make us strong again?'" Dr. Sundermeyer said.

The speaker said that the western powers cannot impose democracy on a people not used to it. Here in America it grew gradually, but the average German does not understand it.

Dr. Sundermeyer painted a gloomy picture of the Protestant church in Germany and said that spiritual regeneration seems hopeless.

He said he doubted that the Western zones would go Communist. They don't like the Communists, but they don't like the western powers either, he said.

Dr. Robert S. Lefever, vice president, presided and introduced the speaker. The new bell and gavel presented by the Hanover Exchange club was used for the first time.

Protest Release College Professor

Philadelphia, May 3 (AP)—A self described committee for academic freedom in Pennsylvania has called a mass meeting for Friday at the Adelphi hotel here to protest the dismissal of Dr. Lee Lorch by Penn State college.

The committee is under the leadership of Dr. Rotan Lee, a negro alumnus of Penn State and a Philadelphia physician.

Dr. Lorch was dismissed as a mathematics professor at Penn State after permitting a negro couple to occupy his apartment at Stuyvesant-town in New York as his guests.

The committee contends it was because of this that Dr. Lorch was dismissed. The college has said that Dr. Lorch was not retained on the staff because his one-year contract had expired.

Romanian Priest Excommunicated

Vatican City, May 3 (AP)—A Vatican Holy Office decree today announced the excommunication of a Romanian priest, Andreas Agotha. He was accused of abetting a Communist-inspired split with the mother church in his country.

The decree, published in the Vatican newspaper "L'Osservatore Romano," warned that similar steps would be taken against other priests unless they "desist immediately from favoring the schismatic movement."

The decree cuts a priest off from the Catholic church and deprives him of its benefits.

Committee Boosts Retirement Pay

Washington, May 3 (AP)—The Senate Finance committee today approved larger increases in Social Security retirement benefits than are provided in a House-passed bill.

At the same time it voted against any increase for the next five years in the tax rate that finances the system.

The committee estimated that under its proposals individual benefit payments in the next decade would average 110 per cent higher than under present law, compared to the 100 per cent increase provided in the House bill.

The average basic benefit to a retired worker insured under the system now is about $25 a month. This would be increased by the Senate bill to about $49 a month, the committee said. As under the House bill, the present maximum family benefit of $85 a month would be raised to $150.

REPORT POLISH ARMY PURGE BY RED OFFICIALS

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Rumors that the Soviets are planning a new purge of Poland's Army and the Polish Communists party have reached American government officials here.

If the shakeup comes, it will be the latest in a long series aimed at tightening Kremlin control over the Iron Curtain countries.

State department officials, in fact, are convinced that the Soviets already have so entrenched their political agents and secret police in those countries that there is no possibility of an overthrow of Soviet power there in the predictable future.

Nevertheless the purging process is expected to go on as the Soviets root out those officials considered unreliable, friendly toward the west or potential nationalists.

Little support is to be found among State department experts on eastern Europe for ECA Chief Paul Hoffman's view that there will be a crackup of Soviet control over eastern Europe due to the strong tensions which have developed there.

Persons familiar with his views said his opinion was based on the belief that eastern Europeans bitterly dislike Soviet communism and that as western Europe regains its power and economic health the Russians will be unable to hold the lid on the forces working against them.

State department officials generally hold hopes based on this line of reasoning. But they see little prospect of their hopes being realized.

Soviet control of the countries consists partly in inside domination of the governments of eastern Europe and partly in the presence or nearness of Soviet military power.

STUDENT LAUDS HENRY BREAM IN COLLEGE PAPER

Gettysburg college's football and basketball coach, Henry T. Bream, received high praise in a column, "Sports Before Your Eyes," written by Steve Ayres in the current edition of "The Gettysburgian," Gettysburg college weekly newspaper.

Ayres' column follows:

One of Hen Bream's close friends said, in describing him, "Hen has one weakness as a coach—he is a gentleman."

In these days of mechanized athletics and big time sport promotion; when a coach is supposed to be tough, hardbitten, and interested in crackerjack records, Bream has lived his ideal and placed the Boy ahead of any contest. Not that Hen doesn't like to win. He does, but he is more interested in building men than in amassing records.

Columns and columns have been written about Bream's ability as a coach. And columns have been written criticizing him. But the stature of Bream as a coach is dwarfed by the figure of Bream as a man. To Hen, the boy—any boy—is more important than glory or victory.

"He's A Champ"

Although a guy may have two left feet, a gawky manner, and no ability at all, Hen remembers that to the boy's parents, he is a champ. And when Hen sends a man out on the football field, he remembers that he is sending out more than a football player. Football today means murder. No one can tell when a player will be struck from behind on the neck. Hen is just plain scared every time he gives the word that puts a man on the field.

But Bream, in 25 years, has never once played a man that was not in top physical condition. Rome, the trainer, just says the word and the boy doesn't play. Whether it is a skinned knee, a sprained ankle, or a bad headache, the game goes by the board if need be. This past season, Hen lost the chance of victory in one game when he kept the center cog of a new defensive formation on the bench, rather than risk injury.

Hen's duties as a coach don't stop at six o'clock. And when the season is over, Hen's work has just started. One boy was behind in his work—Hen got him a tutor. Another, a scholarship boy, couldn't make the grade in varsity competition and had expected to be asked to leave school. But Hen never takes a scholarship away from a boy. In many schools, when an athlete is injured, his scholarship stops. He can't produce so he's booted out. When one of Bream's boys is hurt, Hen tells him to take life easy for a while—not to worry about anything.

Gettysburg College has been lucky to hold on to Bream for the past 25 years. But that is because he is as Gettysburg as Lincoln's Address. Several years ago, Colgate University tossed a lucrative offer his way—he passed it up. Muhlenberg, Syracuse, and other sporting minded schools have cast greedy glances in his direction. Most men with Bream's ability would, after 25 years, be head coach of a large university team. But Hen has no ambitions for such a position—he has only loyalty for Gettysburg.

"If I got nothing out of college itself, I got an education because I met Hen Bream." . . . Harry Pure.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 3 (AP)—Contradicting the old theory that everything happens in Brooklyn, Boston Red Sox fans ask: "Did a manager ever thumb himself out of a game there?" Joe McCarthy did that and some say it's the screwiest happening of the season so far. . . . Seems Joe got the thumb while he was arguing with Umpire Bill McKinley and left the park. McKinley later said he had only told McCarthy, "Go back and sit down."

But a couple of days before that Manager Al Vincent of the Tulsa (Texas League) Oilers rushed out to demand that an opposing player be given the heave-ho. Before he was through talking, Vincent had been tossed out himself. . . . Then there's Clyde Smoll of West Palm Beach, Fla., who earned the doubtful distinction of being the first manager "fired" this season. His club lost 12 of its first 16 games. . . . Sam Demma of the Opelika, Ala., club beat that rap. At odds with the club heads, Sam resigned two days before the season opened and took a playing job with Anniston.

FRENCH LEAVE

We can't swear to this story, but it comes from a good quarter. . . . Seems that Paul Pettit, Pittsburgh's $100,000 farmhand, was causing his New Orleans bosses considerable concern by disappearing for long walks, alone, in the French quarter. . . . They figured Paul wasn't the kind of kid to get into trouble, but still it could happen in that part of town. . . . Diplomatically, a couple of them dropped into Paul's room and carefully brought the conversation around to these jaunts. . . . Pettit blushed, bulged out his cheek and produced a box of bubble gum. . . . The French quarter attraction was a store that carried his favorite brand.

IT HAPPENS EVERYWHERE

The St. Louis Browns, as might be expected, got in early on the diamond oddities. . . . First Doc Tracy, the psychologist, told Dick Kokos, "stand up there and hit a home run." . . . Dick did. . . . The Doc must have been looking the other way when pitcher Cliff Fanning, chasing Fungoes in the outfield, stepped in a hole and twisted, not his ankle but his neck. . . . Cliff was no worse off than ex-major leaguer Augie Galan of Oakland, who lost a fly ball in the lights and was hit smack on his head.

MAURY LEARNS LESSON, BEATS CLEVELAND 6-1

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Credit the New York Yankees with an assist should Maurice (don't call me Mickey) McDermott fulfill his promise of developing into a winning hurler with the Boston Red Sox.

A Red Sox official, who shall remain unidentified, would have you believe that the unmerciful trouncing the Bronx Bombers handed McDermott at the Yankee Stadium a week ago was a blessing in disguise.

During the recent spring drills, when McDermott was causing Manager McCarthy to spend sleepless nights with his indifferent performances, a Sox official confided:

"That McDermott could become a great pitcher if only he gets serious about his job. The trouble with him is that he's too cocky."

"What he needs," the club spokesman continued, "is a good pummeling. If some club could pin his ears back—but good—he might get some sense into his head and realize he must produce first and strut later."

Got His Trouncing

McDermott got his pummeling all right. The Yankees took care of that last Wednesday. A dozen men faced McDermott in less than two innings and eight reached base. Four solid hits including a pair of home runs produced four runs in the first inning. A hit and three bases on balls furnished another run in the second and sent McDermott to a quick shower.

It seems that was the lesson McDermott needed. In his very next start, Maury pitched one of the best games of his big league career. That came yesterday when he hurled the Red Sox to a 6-1 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

The gangling 21-year-old left-hander from Schenectady, N. Y., allowed only four hits and missed a shutout when Joe Gordon slammed a ninth inning home run. Ted Williams helped Boston ring up its fifth straight triumph with his fourth home run.

Revenge For Bums

The Brooklyn Dodgers gained revenge for Monday night's loss to St. Louis, trouncing the Cardinals, 10-3. Preacher Roe returned to form with a well-scattered 10-hit effort. Four hits, an error and a couple of walks helped the Dodgers to a big six-run inning against Howie Pollet.

Pittsburgh shelled Warren Spahn from the mound in the first inning with a four-run outburst and went on to defeat the Boston Braves, 6-1. The Braves' left-hander had won his first three starts.

The Cubs outlasted the Philadelphia Phillies in Chicago, 10-8. The Cubs tied off on Lefty Ken Heintzelman for seven runs in the first two innings and staggered through despite four errors.

Once again, rain played havoc with the schedule, washing out four games. Postponed were the New York-Chicago, Detroit-Philadelphia and Washington-St. Louis games in the American league; and New York-Cincinnati in the National.

Hagerstown Ties For League Lead

(By The Associated Press)

Tony Segda, York right-hander, turned in a neat three-hitter last night as the White Roses blanked the Sunbury Athletics 2-0 in an Inter-State league game.

Hagerstown climbed into a tie with Wilmington for first place by defeating the Harrisburg Senators 10-6. Both Hagerstown and Wilmington—unable to play at Allentown last night because of wet grounds—are unbeaten in four starts.

The other scheduled game—Trenton at Lancaster—also was postponed because of damp grounds.

LIST POSTPONEMENTS

Huntertown and Green Springs are scheduled to play a South Penn Baseball league game at Green Springs Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. The game was postponed from last Sunday by rain. Tonight Granite is carded to play at Barlow.

GHS-Delone Contest Set Back To May 18

The baseball game scheduled to be played between the Gettysburg and Delone Catholic high school teams Tuesday afternoon at McSherrystown was postponed until May 18 because of wet grounds.

Coach Howard Shoemaker stated today that because of recent rains he has been unable to hold fielding practice for more than a week with the result his team is far from being in condition.

The Warriors are carded to play their first home game Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Shippensburg in a South Penn league game. However, unless there is plenty of sunshine and no rain it is likely the game may be postponed due to wet grounds. The locals' field is lowlying which requires considerable time to dry following any appreciable rain.

BLACK GEORGE UPSETS "DOPE"

Louisville, Ky., May 3 (AP)—They're going to run the Kentucky Derby Saturday, and that's definite. But, how many of the best three-year-old horses in the land will take the challenge in this $100,000 classic is as uncertain as the weather these damp, dreary days in old Derbytown.

When Black George skidded home on top in the slop and rain to cop the $10,000 Derby trial yesterday, a lot of experts were ready to throw up their hands and quit trying to dope horses.

The 15-to-1 shot slapped a two-length defeat on the even-money favorite, Middleground, and thereby merely added to the confusion of what is rounding into one of the toughest Derbies to figure since they invented the thing in 1875.

Black George immediately became a probable starter.

These are the horses regarded as virtually certain starters in the country's No. 1 racing spectacle:

C. T. Chenery's Hill Prince; Tom Gray's Oil Capitol; William Goetz's Your Host; the King Ranch pair of Middleground and On the Mark; Clifford Moore's Hawley; Hal Price Headley's Lot O' White; C. V. Whitney's Mr. Trouble; William Veene-man's Black George; the Brookmeade Stable entry of Snglow and Greek Ship; Abercrombie and Smith's Stranded, and Walter T. Fugate's Halleboy.

Albany Team Has Yet To Win Game

(By The Associated Press)

The Albany Senators, Eastern league champions last year, still are seeking their first victory in the 1950 campaign.

The Senators dropped their fourth straight in bowing to Williamsport, 7-3, last night. The champions are the only winless team in the class A circuit.

The Utica Blue Sox finally broke into the victory column when Bill Fogg blanked the league-leading Wilkes-Barre Indians, 6-0.

The Binghamton Triplets also fell from the unbeaten class. They were knocked off by the Scranton Miners, 7-4, in a delayed home opener at Scranton.

The Elmira Pioneers and Hartford Chiefs split a doubleheader at Elmira. Both scores were 4-3.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Boys Reign Supreme Here for Hour Tuesday: Leadership of the borough and county governments was vested for one hour Tuesday afternoon in a group of Gettysburg high school boys as one of the special features of the local observance of National Boys' Week.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the boys reported at the various offices in the court house.

Sylvester McKenrick was the burgess, with offices at the fire engine house.

Charles Bender, elected to the position of prothonotary, did double duty, when R. E. Underwood, county farm agent, explained the "insides" of his job.

Miss Doris Plank, deputy for her father, Luther C. Plank, clerk of the courts, instructed Jacob Weikert in the duties of that office.

In the office of C. G. Taughnbaugh, register and recorder, Frank Gardner held sway.

Don Dream was engaged in absorbing the mysteries of the Chamber of Commerce office as outlined by Millard B. Simmons, secretary. One of Don's official acts was the dictating of a letter to Miss Ottilia Kissinger, stenographer.

"This county must be bankrupt," was the comment of Paul Reaser, in the office of County Treasurer Harry J. Troxell, when he failed to see huge bags of money lying around promiscuously.

Civic Clubs to Join in Meeting: Meeting jointly at the Hoffman hotel, Monday evening at 6 o'clock, members of the Rotary and Lions' clubs will hear an address by Dr. C. F. Hoban, assistant director of the State Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, who will give an address on music, as one of the features arranged for Gettysburg's celebration of National Music Week, May 3 to 10, inclusive.

Local Man at Lions Confab: William G. Weaver, Carlisle street, who represented the Gettysburg den of Lions at the annual state convention of that organization at Philadelphia last week, returned home Sunday.

Many Licenses to Wed Issued: Marriage licenses issued at the office of Luther C. Plank, clerk of the courts, over the week-end, include Martin Luther Heller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Heller, Menallen township, and Miss Bertha J. Beamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Beamer, Menallen township; Emory B. Rickrode, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rickrode, Germany townships, and Miss Frances, Martha Hartlaub, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hartlaub, Midway; and William Henry Fink, Gardner R. D., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Fink, City, York county, and Roy Alberta May Goodermuth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Goodermuth, Gardner.

Gen. Mitchell Now a Colonel: Washington, April 28—Within a few hours after he had surrendered the stars which for almost seven years had marked him as a brigadier general, Assistant Chief of the Army Air Service Colonel William Mitchell appeared Monday before a group of officers who had gathered to bid him farewell and took up anew his fight for a unified Air Service. . . .

Bruger Sees No Danger Abroad: Dr. F. K. Kruger, of Wittenberg college, in a very scholarly and thorough way, explained on Tuesday morning the "American Influence in the Making of the German Constitution" as the annual Stuckenberg Lecture, which was established to further the knowledge of Christian Sociology at Gettysburg. Dr. Kruger, one of America's foremost scholars and exchange lecturer next year with Göttingen uni-

THOUGHTS

I like to read diaries. It is as though the one wrote, not alone to himself, but to others. Into a diary a man writes his true self.

It was from Thoreau's diaries that all of his later books were compiled. He himself once wrote in his diary: "My thoughts are my company. They have a certain individuality and separate existence, age, personality."

We have the inspiring meditations of Marcus Aurelius, because he wrote down his thoughts from time to time over an expanse of years. And much of the best of Emerson, Hawthorne, and Arnold Bennett are to be found in their diaries.

The best thoughts of us all may be those that we allowed to leave us, without an immediate recording. If for no other reason, the writing down of our thoughts helps us to express ourselves in better fashion, and stimulates us to think better ones. Many a writer has discovered himself by writing down his thoughts as they came to him from day to day.

Writing down our thoughts also helps us to think clearly, thus making us better conversationalists. One of the aids of Admiral Peary, in his quest for the discovery of the North Pole, was asked what his thoughts were up there in the cold and bleak arctic. His reply was: "I did not think. Peary was with us and he did the thinking!" Too many of us allow others to do our thinking for us.

It is well to read the thoughts of others, but solely to stimulate us in our own thinking. We are forever accompanied by our thoughts. It is important that they be good thoughts, and constructive ones. Many hours each day we have only our thoughts as company. Especially at night, when we go to our rest, we should crowd our mind with pleasant and happy thoughts.

One of the thoughts of Marcus Aurelius was not to "imagine yourself to have what you have not; but take full account of the excellencies which you possess, and in gratitude remember how you would hanker after them, if you had them not. At the same time take care that in thus hugging them, you do not get into the habit of prizing them so much that without them you would be perturbed."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject, "Bees."

THE ZITHER

I wonder where the zither is my mother used to play.
I think we may have sold it or have given it away.
We thought we'd never want it;
that the day would never come
When the strings upon a zither
one of us should care to strum.
I'd forgotten we had owned one,
till that fellow came to town
Who with music of a zither rose to fortune and renown.

The mother often told me if I'd practice night and day,
Gay tunes upon a zither I could surely learn to play.
But I scorned the sweet suggestion,
for in music I am dumb
And I have no touch of rhythm in my finger and my thumb.
Mother said that I'd regret it if to learn I didn't try.
She was right, and well I know it.
Most regretful now am I.

Perhaps I could have learned it, as so frequently she said,
But we parted with the zither and I chose the pen instead.
Now that fellow with the zither strums a fortune from the strings
While I'm sitting in an office writing very simple things.
Had I only heeded mother, and the zither learned to play,
I might now be making music in some popular cafe.

Tells County History

Jacob M. Sheads, of the history department of Gettysburg high school presented a talk on "Little Known Facts About a Well Known County" and Miss Mabel Satterthwaite, supervisor from Pennsylvania State College spoke on homemaking activities. A group from the Harrisburg Road presented a "kitchen band" with the members using kitchen utensils as musical instruments. Mrs. Harry Gilbert was leader and Mrs. Levi Spangler, pianist.

Mrs. Emory Gitt, Littlestown, was narrator for the pageant. Participants included Mrs. C. B. Nell, Barlow; Mrs. E. P. Shriver, Barlow; Mrs. Walter Shriver and Mrs. H. C. Oberlander, of Alloway club; Mrs. John Maring, Barlow; Mrs. John W. Schwartz, Barlow; Mrs. George Sollberger, Harrisburg road; Mr. George Mayers, Littlestown; Mrs. Jesse Slick, Alloway; Mrs. Herbert Zepp, Harrisburg road; Mrs. Alice Walker, Alloway; Miss Gail Bell, Harrisburg road; Mrs. Orville Newman, Froggown, and two youngsters, Douglas Gitt and Linda Oberlander. As part of the pageant, members of the various clubs modeled dresses they made during the past year.

Some Still Popular

Designed to reveal changes during the past 50 years, the pageant showed scenes in a farm home as they were 50 years ago, with the actors in the costume of that time, and as they are today. One skit showed the development of the iron from old cast iron flatiron to the modern ironing equipment.

Some articles enjoyed 50 years ago are still popular today, the skits showed, including craft work such as hooking rugs and caning chairs, and the singing of sentimental songs.

Mrs. Howard Schwartz and Mrs. Vernon Snyder were stage managers for the production. The 20 children in the nursery school were cared for by a committee including Mrs. Daniel Paddock, Mrs. Horace Ways, bright and Mrs. John W. Schwartz.

of its students grew too large for its school.

Arendtsville, he said, was in the far end of Franklin township, with a school situated where the Arendtsville fruit laboratory was located until about two years ago. The number of pupils grew too large for the school and all youngsters beyond High street were sent to a school a mile from the borough. The next year the town petitioned to become an independent school district and operated its own schools before it became a borough.

His staffensperger read a paper on the early history of Beecherstown, that David Beecher in 1825 established a tannery at the little place about a half mile south-east of Arendtsville along the Conewago creek. Later he built a woolen mill to make clothes, blankets and similar articles. In 1837 Beecher built a paper mill near where the covered bridge now stands. Water power serviced the thriving industries of the town, but later the paper mill burned and the other businesses passed out of existence when steam power replaced water power as the

BRIGHT NEW TOUCH TO A BIG BOLD BEAUTY
See something new here? That's right—the gleaming sweepaper now adorns the fenders of this ROADMASTER Riviera Sedan. An extra touch of distinction that's yours as a standard item.

What's the secret of the "UNRUFFLED" RIDE?

SOME car makers say springs make the ride—and so we give every Buick four of the soft, gentle coil springs practically all cars use on front wheels only.

Some say the drive is important—how power is transmitted to the rear wheels.

We agree—and use a torque-tube drive, that takes up all the thrust, freeing rear springs of driving pulsation.

Some stress tires—so you'll find low-pressure casings on every Buick, mounted on our own kind of Safety-Ride rims. Some play up shock absorbers—we make ours fast, soft and sure in action, to wash out all "after-bounce."

Then there are frames—and car weight—and engine mountings, which on Buick are a very special kind used nowhere else.

They're all important—yet the plain truth is no one of these things—or two or three—gives a ride you can truly call "unruffled."

We feel it takes all of them—springs, tires, shock absorbers, drive, engine mountings—carefully and precisely brought into balance with each other.

You can see why we think so in any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

You can feel it on cobblestones and car tracks, washboard gravel and weather-pocked macadam, country lane and city street. You even feel it on boulevards, which grow still smoother when you travel them in a Buick—especially when it has Dynaflo Drive.

So we would like you to try a ride that is truly "unruffled." Free of harshness—undisturbed by bounce and jitter—level—steady-going—smooth.

Just ask any Buick dealer for a chance to try out any Buick: You'll find it "the ride of a lifetime"—and the buy of a lifetime too!

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SPECIAL and SUPER models.

Only Buick has Dynaflo—and with it goes:

in the American people and their ways. You can't understand their attitude unless you live with them."

Referring to a peace treaty with Japan, Col. Smith said: "The youth of Japan do not want a treaty now. They want democracy but they know that their strength must come gradually. It is their belief that if the occupation remains and the treaty is delayed they will win out."

Speaking of religion he said that "the Japanese believe in Christianity and in prayer. I have seen teachers who, lacking knowledge, went out of the room to pray. One group hid out in the mountains throughout the entire war because they wanted to continue studying the Bible. A lot can be done here and now is the time to do it. We should let them see the result of our Christian attitudes."

He praised the pin-point bombing during the war asserting that "2,500,000 buildings were destroyed in

Farmers To Cut Tomato Acreage

Pennsylvania farmers who grow cannery tomatoes intend to reduce their acreage this year by eight per cent from 1949 the State Department of Agriculture reports. Federal-State surveys show the indicated acreage for 1950 is 19,300 compared with 21,000 last year, a drop of 1,700 acres.

The 1950 intended acreage is nearly 9,000 under the ten-year average of 28,130 acres, 1938-48. Department records show.

However, reports of intentions to plant, received early in April for the United States, show pre-season estimates for tomatoes for processing this year to be 409,400 acres, an advance of 11 per cent over 1949. The acreage actually planted this season may turn out to be larger or smaller than the reported early indications to plant.

Tokyo but certain of the finest buildings were left untouched and intact for occupation use.

The Japanese are great baseball fans. The game has been taken up by them. English words and all. Three games may be played on the same field at one time. The Japanese will cheer for the players but they will never razz them."

The Japanese are never jealous, but are quick to help one another. Smith said. Since Japanese must live on so little everything is utilized, including time. They are always eager to learn something new or a quicker way to do old things. In conclusion Col. Smith declared, "I was more at ease about the world situation while in Japan than I have been since I came home."

Plan Annual Event

Rowe Martin gave a report of the nominating committee and spoke of the coming state convention. Russell Hackmen gave a final report on the Barber Shop quartet contest. The minutes of the last board meeting were read and unanimously accepted. Miss Grace Trimmer was authorized to make up luncheon badges. A membership ceiling of 100 was set. The club now has 85 members. The original fund account of $993 was liquidated. The board took action also to make the Barber Shop quartet contest an annual event.

Student guest of the evening was Owen Taylor, a member of the Upper Adams Joint high school band, the German band, and a participant in dramatics and operettas. Other guests were Rev. Robert C. Scheibel, pastor of the Arendtsville Lutheran church, Harold Taylor and Richard Trostle. Roy Martin was installed as a new member by Samuel Ehman.

Clair Shillito reported that the next meeting on May 16 would be held in the Biglerville grade school building and would honor the varsity club members. A baked ham dinner will be served and the speaker will be Peter Carter, physical education director of the York public schools.

Clair Grim, reporting on the June 6 meeting, said that the meeting would be a Ladies' Night and would be held at the Memorial auditorium at the South Mountain fair grounds.

linen cloths, made and given by Mrs. Lulu Taylor, in memory of her husband, Clarence, and mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry Taylor; a painting of Sallman's "Head of Christ," given by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kuhn, in memory of his father and mother.

Records of the history of the church are sketchy and few. During the years the church has been a part of several Methodist circuits and in the changes most of the records have been lost. It is believed that there was an organization of Methodists in the section as early as 1840. This organization was a Society of Methodists, persons who had become Methodists at camp meetings and revivals in nearby churches and camp meeting grounds. They were, however, without the regular services of a pastor until around 1865 when the Wensville Methodist became known as "the Methodists meeting in Wensville School House." It became a part of the York Springs Methodist Charge that year, which at the time consisted of seven churches. This charge was under the pastoral direction of the Rev. A. J. Bender, and belonged to the East Baltimore Annual Conference. The presiding elder, or district superintendent as he would be known today, was the Rev. J. S. Murray.

Two Churches Merge

On Dec. 25th, 1872, the Lutheran and Methodist Societies of Wensville united to form the Wensville Brick Union church, located at the site of the present Methodist church. The cost of the church was $1,600. The dedication service, conducted on that date, was in charge of the Reverends Clark and Dixon of the Methodist Society, and Reverends Snyder and Probst of the Lutheran Society. It was around this time that the Wensville Methodist Society joined with Bendersville and New Oxford in a separation from the York Springs charge, and formed a new charge.

The records further reveal that by May 1879 the division in 1872 was apparently not satisfactory, and Wensville and Bendersville are again a part of the York Springs charge. The Rev. William Moses was the pastor at the time of the return. None of these changes on the part of the Methodists made any change in the set-up of the Brick Union church for the Lutherans and the Methodists of Wensville worshipped together until sometime in 1891, when a fire destroyed the building. What furnishings were saved were sold to the Methodist Society in 1892 for $294, when they decided to build their own church. Steps were taken to that end and a building was completed and in use that same year. Since that time the two denominations have worshipped in their own churches, but have maintained friendly relations with one another and have joined together from time to time to conduct meetings, festivals and special services.

A second division of the York Springs charge was made in 1939-40. At the time the Wensville and Bendersville churches withdrew and formed the Bendersville Methodist charge, which was composed of the churches of Wensville, Bendersville, and Orrtanna, the pastor was the Rev. Nelson Frank. A new parsonage was built in 1940 by the Bendersville and Wensville churches. In addition to Rev. Frank, other pastors of the present charge have been the Reverends George Harrison, 1942-47, Richard K. Titley, 1947-May 1, 1949, and the present pastor.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to the State department, says the capture of Hainan island by the Chinese Communists calls for American action to keep the strategic island of Formosa out of Red hands.

Why? Mr. Dulles doesn't amplify that but leaves us to figure it out. One very obvious answer is that Formosa not only is Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters but is the seat of what is left of the Nationalist government—a castle with a ghost. It's about the last bit of Chinese soil Chiang has for refuge.

But supposing Uncle Sam maintains the Nationalists on the island, what practical purpose will it serve? Does Chiang have a chance of retrieving his position and reconquering China?

Well, a horse-racing addict perhaps would figure Chiang's chances as a long shot. However, the generalissimo maintains that he still can turn the trick if he gets support. Here are some of his reasons:

While the Communists ostensibly have "conquered" the vast mainland, the Nationalists claim that actually there are many areas which still are in the hands of guerrillas who have no use for the Reds and are prepared to cast their lot with Chiang. And why haven't the Chinese Communists liquidated all these pockets of guerrillas? Probably for the same reason that the Japs were unable to map them up in all the years of the China-Japanese fighting. The vastness of the country and its rugged terrain are adapted to the existence of small bodies of fighting men. It's a territory that is hard to control unless the country is peaceful.

Then there's another important aspect of the situation. It is essential that the Chinese Communists knock out the Nationalist government and military headquarters on Formosa for economic reasons.

A Chinese Nationalist official tells me that it takes the tax on 30 peasants to keep one soldier going. He estimates that the Communists have over 7,000,000 troops under arms. If Formosa can be knocked out, and the generalissimo can be rendered helpless, the Reds can demobilize and thereby cut the taxation which is so irksome to the Chinese.

Good Plane Base
More to the point, Formosa is an admirable airplane base, and has been called an anchored airplane carrier.

The first Japanese attacks on the Philippines in the late war were made with bombers based on Formosa. Not far away lies Okinawa.

Question Race News On Underworld Link

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Senators dug into Kansas City's gambling situation Tuesday looking for any underworld link in the nationwide distribution of horse race news to bookmakers.

Their first move was to call representatives of the Continental Press Service of Cleveland, O., before a Senate Commerce subcommittee which is studying anti-gambling legislation.

A federal grand jury reported Saturday that racing news is brought into Kansas City by Continental and distributed by the Standard News Service to bookies doing an $8,500,000-a-year business.

Chairman McFarland told reporters: "I want to ask them (Continental) about any tie-in between news distribution and the underworld in Kansas City." He was prepared to place a copy of the grand jury report in the record of the gambling investigation.

City and state officials have identified Continental as the chief distributor of racing news used by the nation's bookies—and as the major link in big-time gambling on races.

Lattimore called Budenz a "Liar"

Washington, May 3 (AP)—Owen Lattimore declared under oath Tuesday that charges he was a Communist and Russia's top spy "are not supported by a shred of evidence, perjured or otherwise."

Lattimore called Senator McCarthy, his chief accuser, "clearly a bad policy risk" and tore into the Wisconsin Republican's background. He alluded to official criticism of McCarthy's conduct as a state judge and asserted difficulties over wartime income tax returns.

As for ex-Communist Louis Budenz—who swore high Communist officials regarded Lattimore as a Communist—Lattimore termed him a liar—"either a plain old-fashioned liar or a pathological liar."

The announcement by Westinghouse President Gwilym A. Price said Turner will continue to direct the Westinghouse Elevator division at Jersey City, N. J., where he has been general manager since 1948.

A native of Barrow, England, Turner graduated from Westinghouse Technical night school at East Pittsburgh in 1929 while he was time study supervisor of the tool departments.

He went to the meter division at Newark, N. J., in 1932 to direct time study work and was named manager of the division nine years later, a post he held until he went to the elevator division.

NEW HOSPITAL BOARD
Harrisburg, May 3 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff shook up the Board of Trustees of Shamokin State hospital, naming six new members.

One of the trustees replaced was Chairman H. Wilson Lark, father of Henry W. Lark, Northumberland county Republican chairman. All six new trustees replaced board members whose terms have expired.

Chemical Can Kill Weeds, Help Crops

State College, Pa., May 3 (AP)—A chemical that stimulates crop production while it is killing weeds has been developed by scientists at the Pennsylvania State college.

Dr. Stephen M. Raleigh, chairman of a weed control team at the college, said in a week-end report that the chemical—calcium cyanamid—releases growth-stimulating nitrogen to crops after killing weeds in the early spring.

Dr. Raleigh said experiments showed that calcium cyanamid must be applied at the rate of about 600 to 800 pounds to an acre to be effective.

Former Machinist Gets Top Position

Pittsburgh, May 3 (AP)—Tom Turner, who joined Westinghouse Electric corporation 23 years ago as a machinist Monday became a vice president of the firm.

The announcement by Westinghouse President Gwilym A. Price said Turner will continue to direct the Westinghouse Elevator division at Jersey City, N. J., where he has been general manager since 1948.

A native of Barrow, England, Turner graduated from Westinghouse Technical night school at East Pittsburgh in 1929 while he was time study supervisor of the tool departments.
